

I just read a news article that said the no-call list is being threatened. If anything, it needs to be strengthened. I do not think that charities should be exempt from the ban.